

Peace Mountain Theatre Company
AN INTERACTIVE THEATRE EXPERIENCE
for Young People
4 PM, Sunday, January 24 on Zoom

This coming January 24, 2021 at 4 PM, PMTC will present a free live Zoom interactive performance of a short, one-act play, THE OTHER. This story relates the frightening experience of four young people lost in the woods as darkness descends. They have discovered a shack and must make a decision. Seek help from the strangers within? Stay where they are? What would YOU do?

Parents and Grandparents: This story is perfect for students from late elementary school age through early teens. When the performance is over, your youngsters will have the opportunity to tell the actors what to say, what to do. The cast will then redo portions of the play in response to suggestions from the audience and you can observe how the play changes as new ideas are incorporated into the script.

This interactive approach will be a fun and interesting way for young people to take part in the development of a play – the outcomes will depend on them! They will also be dealing with important issues in today's ever changing world.

PMTC's Laurie T. Freed, a registered drama therapist, will guide members of the audience as they interact with the play's actors. She holds Masters Degrees in both Theatre and in Drama Therapy and has taught theatre performance for children from 5 through 17, as well as college-age students.

This FREE performance, part of the Peace Mountain Theatre Company Educational Outreach Program, will air on Zoom at 4:00 PM on Sunday, January 24. Please feel free to pass on this information and the link to anyone you know who might be able to benefit from the program and discussion.
